

MEMBERSHIP IN MNACP

Membership of this Association is open to current or former employees of state, local, federal, and tribal agencies, and academic institutions, in natural resource management, land and water management, and pollution control fields.

Minnesota Association of Conservation Professionals (MNACP) is an organization that in 2008 transitioned and expanded from an association that had been in existence since 1960 - made up of members from the DNR Divisions of Fish and Wildlife and Ecological Services.

MNACP is a nonprofit association of current and former professional conservation workers from all disciplines; wildlife, fisheries, forestry, native plants, soil, water, conservation, and academic disciplines that represent conservation programs in Minnesota. MNACP promotes communication, training and policy coordination among these disciplines, but outside of the federal, state, and local agencies and organizations where its members are employed. Please visit us at <http://mnacp.org/>

Membership in MNACP allows members to participate openly in a dialogue whose mission is to promote science-based stewardship of natural resources and conservation in Minnesota. MNACP has a Board of Directors consisting of fourteen elected members serving 2-3 year terms.

New members please consider indicating whether you are interested in serving as a Board member when you send in your application: YES _____ Maybe _____ Not now _____
